¹ Academic subjects such as: English, math, science, history, etc. each earn 1 credit while non-academic subjects such as home economics, physical education, music, art, etc. usually earn 1/2 credits.

²The subject should match the categories which will be part of the school transcript as follow: language arts, foreign language, math, social science, natural science, fine arts, practical arts, physical education or other.

³The numeric score is the grade equivalent earned and computed by dividing the number of right answers by the total number of questions, ie, 13 out of 15 questions answered correctly would equal a numeric score of 87.

⁴The letter grade converts a numeric score into its letter grade equivalent for the purpose of computing a grade point average as follows: 90-100 = A; 80-89 = B; 70-79 = C; 60-69 = D; below 60 = F
